The essays will be judged by a separate judging panel. Applicants with top-rated essays will be interviewed by the Friends of the Library (FOL) Scholarship Committee in May. The winning applicants will be announced in May.

The scholarship recipients should agree to accept the award in-person at the Library. Acceptance of the FOL scholarship authorizes the use of photographs and the names of recipients in all FOL promotional news releases.

The scholarship funds will be paid directly to the selected winners' institute of higher education. The student must provide proof of admission, and then the FOL scholarship funds will be issued.
